Imagine...it’s 1969, and you are a young woman in Woonsocket. You discover you are having a baby! But wait, you do not have insurance or access to health care. You are scared and do not know where to turn. You learn about a group of volunteers bringing family planning services to Woonsocket...in an apartment. Finally, you get the care you need! This is how Thundermist began.

During the 1970s and 80s, what started as family planning services grew into a full-fledged health center. Primary care for adults and children, WIC, prenatal services, and dental care were added.

The need to bring health care to people who did not have access only grew. Thundermist expanded with locations in Wakefield and West Warwick.

Services continued to grow to include walk-in care, behavioral health care, and treatment for substance use disorders. Programs that began during this time include health care for the homeless, school-based health centers, HIV programs, a trans health program, and community health teams.

Thundermist remains true to its mission of providing high-quality health care to our patients and communities, removing barriers to that care, and advancing healthy lifestyles.

Thank you for putting your health care, community, and your support in our hands. We look forward to the next 50 years!
Meet Erin: Grateful Patient and Board Member

Erin shares her health care journey and how Thundermist changed her life!

For most of her adult life, Erin avoided hospitals and doctors and was disconnected from health care. Then, Erin turned 40 and needed a mammogram. She was uninsured and didn’t know where to turn. Her dad told her to reach out to Thundermist, they could help!

Reluctantly, she made an appointment. She explained she did not have health insurance and did not know how she was going to pay. Erin utilized the sliding scale to pay for appointments and was given a $4,000 grant so she could get her mammogram! She had a primary care provider, Sara Delaporta, MD, for the first time in years.

Fast forward a few years and the Affordable Care Act gave her health insurance for the first time since childhood. She is thankful for the support Thundermist provided in getting insurance – low and behold, in the nick of time.

Days later, a cat bit her and it got infected. She tried the new health insurance at the ER and was shocked – IT WORKED! She was able to make a full recovery from the infection. “Thundermist never let me down,” she shares. “In fact, they exceeded my expectations!”

Erin is now an advocate of Thundermist and its patients, participating in local, state and federal advocacy, and is a member of our board of directors. She is forever grateful for the care she receives at Thundermist.

“Thundermist never let me down. In fact, they exceeded my expectations!”

Food Pantries Serve a Community Need

Thundermist’s food pantries provide food for thousands, but there is still great need.

Access to nutritious food is difficult for many patients at Thundermist. Not only do many of our patients struggle to afford food, but the communities we serve have transportation barriers and little access to fresh fruits and vegetables.

You, our supporters, have been generous in giving to the food pantries. But many months there is a shortage of food on the pantry shelves, especially healthy food options.

Sapna Chowdhry, MD, the medical director of our Woonsocket health center, describes the importance of our food pantries:

“Adequate nutrition and food safety are necessary for a patient’s well-being and health. I find that my patients are unable to buy healthy food for the month on the food stamps/state subsidies. In Woonsocket, there is not an actual grocery store for patients to buy fresh fruits and vegetables. We greatly appreciate all donations to the food pantry.”

How you can help

Will you help bring nutritious food to a family in need? Stop by any Thundermist location with your non-perishable food donation OR mail a check designated directly to the food pantry to:
